

Description Document

This year is our school anniversary, in this day full of memories, we would like to prepare a lot of works about it. Before this, our school also has the big and small splendid moment, we then may have some representational and the commemorative photograph to put in and to play repeatedly, which has the big and small activity lively, has the sports meeting struggle, has the teacher's delicate spirit, it's all in one, but it's just so boring, and we've even joined our school's stunning song, as if it wasn't a high end robot, with the background music completed a piece full of dynamic masterpiece, this is the first work the second work is a promotional film about our school anniversary and about our school anniversary of the interesting dialogue, and pictures of our classmates at the seawall museum. It contains a video, some photos, and action and music before, during, and after the video is played. First, in the first part, we used the video format. Before we show the film, we will liven up the atmosphere by imitating the sound of blowing a trumpet. At the end of this lively action, the robot will say: "Let's watch the school anniversary video! " To illustrate, please tell us the theme of the school anniversary. And then we showed the trailer in action. After the broadcast, we finally said, have you fallen in love with our campus?

The first part is the propaganda film to introduce the general situation of our school. In the second part, we used photos of the school's anniversary and the seawall museum. With the sound of the school song "Koichi's youth journey" and the action of the Pepper robot, Pepper's screen plays a moving picture. Looking at this picture, we know the great idea of our school.

Finally , is our interesting dialogue about the school, including the school introduction, jokes, Doggerel and so on. It lets guests learn the basics of the school in a conversation with a pepper robot, and can also find something interesting in it. In a twinkling of an eye, the autumn wind suddenly rises, the door is full of peaches and plums fifty years, the door is full of honor fifty years. We've done a few introductory sessions, including our anniversary, promotional videos, photos, and dialogues. I believe in this celebration, and in the vision of our Pepper robots, the school will be better and better!
